

ABOUT US

Wounded Paw Project® is a 501(c)(3) that focuses on the prevention of animal abuse and the rehabilitation of abused and rescued dogs.

Wounded Paw Project® was founded by Ernesto P Hernandez III, a Purple Heart recipient, and his dog Daisy, a pit bull/labrador shelter rescue. After suffering injuries in Iraq that resulted in being awarded the Purple Heart, Ernesto was in constant pain and given various opioids. The doctors' treatments to heal Ernesto's physical and invisible wounds failed repeatedly. Where no doctor, family or friend could help, Daisy was able to help heal him. Daisy became a shelter dog turned emotional support dog. Together, Ernesto and Daisy formed the Wounded Paw Project® in 2016 to give other shelter dogs a second tail in life®.

Today, Wounded Paw Project® is guided by the PAW principle and has become the Voice for all dogs.

BE THE VOICE FOR THE VOICELESS®

WOUNDED PAW PROJECT®

WHAT IS THE PAW PRINCIPLE?

The PAW principle serves as the foundation for Wounded Paw Project®. It is comprised of our three top priorities: Protect, Advocate and Wagployment®.

Protect

Did you know that animal abuse is a precursor for a life of crime involving human trafficking, school shootings, and domestic violence? We serve as a critical link between the community and law enforcement at all levels by helping those who might not feel comfortable reporting animal abuse directly to law enforcement.

If you don't feel comfortable calling law enforcement, you can call us at 1-844-SAVAPAW. Report animal abuse. Be the Voice for the Voiceless®.

Advocate

Stop Breed Specific Legislation. Enforce tougher penalties for convicted animal abusers. End dog sacrifice in the name of Freedom of Religion. These are the top issues that Wounded Paw Project® is working with other advocacy groups and law makers to protect the rights of dogs.

Wagployment®

Wounded Paw Project® works with like-minded organizations to decompress and train abused and rescued dogs to give these dogs a second tail in life® as an emotional support dog, service dog*, or even a happy family pet.
